WHAT NLP "MASTERY" IS ABOUT

This NLP Master Practitioner Training builds upon the skills and techniques developed in the NLP Practitioner course. Alongside refining and consolidating these skills, the NLP Master Practitioner offers advanced techniques and furthers your ability to make generative change for yourself and those you work with. During this course you will explore the core principles that underpin the change process, learn how to make transformation at the deep neurological level of identity and discover the unconscious programs that determine our fundamental ways of being.

NLP mastery applies to all logical levels, for it is a way of:

- Being at home in any environment and context.
- Acting so that you achieve your chosen goals.
- Integrating your skills so that they support you in your endeavours.
- Perceiving yourself, others, and the world, in a manner which enables you to let your natural brilliance shine through.
- Being more truly yourself.
- Being at one with the world.

During the NLP Master Practitioner training course, you will discover the SECRET to all NLP patterns - the model of successful intervention and change; you could call it the Meta NLP Pattern

NLP Master Practitioner

Whether you work in Sales, Management, coaching or counseling others, or simply want to be better at managing and coaching yourself, you'll be amazed by how quickly the Master Practitioner content becomes an essential part of everything you do.

PROGRAMME CONTENT PREVIEW

MODULE 1: ADVANCED LANGUAGE PATTERNS

Master Practitioners are masters of language. Learn how to use language masterfully and at a higher level to generate change, influence, persuade, and communicate with greater success. Learn how to word adverts, write gripping speeches & spin, encourage, influence and persuade with more mastery. This helps you enormously with getting people motivated or excited, convincing people, selling, negotiating, marketing, life coaching and therapy practices. Includes conversational/covert Coaching and Hypnosis.

MODULE 2: META PROGRAMS

Learn the different automatic unconscious programmed patterns, personality traits and character traits that are running unconsciously and causing their preferences and inclinations. Learn to do personality and character assessments, personality profiling for careers, relationships, life coaching and in business. Fit the right person to the right job and help people find the easiest way to achieve their goals by working to their natural strengths and tendencies. Knowing 'profile types' is a great help when you want to write sales and marketing pitches to a specific person type or person group and to target a particular audience. Help people choose the right partner too.

MODULE 3: PRESENTATION AND TRAINING SKILLS

Learn how to deliver exciting and gripping presentations and training, and be articulate, confident and entertaining. You learn how to get yourself into the training state, how to lead your audience, create their states and keep their interest. You'll get the best ways of how to sequence, chunk and prepare your presentations, including making flip charts, visuals, participant activities and participant's notes.

MODULE 4: VALUES AND CLARE GRAVES MODEL (SPIRAL DYNAMICS)

Following on from Meta Programs, where you learned about character and personality patterns, we now add the deep unconscious drivers and unconscious core values, our deepest programs and unconscious presuppositions. This enables you to do great person to job fit, relationship building and strengthening, self understanding and corporate work in HR, management, alignment and team building.

MODULE 5: SLEIGHT OF MOUTH

There are so many skilful ways to reframe. Increase your ability to reframe, comment on and change the direction on any debate, argument or situation. These distinctions make it easier to chunk up, down or sideways, throw doubt on the other persons position and know when to use Meta Model or Milton Model when locked into a communication. It is great for winning arguments, for negotiating, a great aid in using the Meta model more artfully to dispel dysfunctional or mad thinking.

MODULE 6: MODELING

There are so many skilful ways to reframe. Increase your ability to reframe, comment on and change the direction on any debate, argument or situation. These distinctions make it easier to chunk up, down or sideways, throw doubt on the other persons position and know when to use Meta Model or Milton Model when locked into a communication. It is great for winning arguments, for negotiating, a great aid in using the Meta model more artfully to dispel dysfunctional or mad thinking.

MODULE 7: NEGOTIATION SKILLS

Learn how to run fair, ethical, win/win negotiations, and how to prevent or avoid being manipulated, bullied or tricked in a negotiation. Understanding “Hard Ball”, soft ball and win/win negotiations allows you to recognize the game the other is playing so you can adjust accordingly. Being familiar with the various tactics and maneuvers some negotiators use helps us to be fore warned in order to ensure negotiations run smoothly, ethically and win/win.

MODULE 8: TIMELINE AND ADVANCED NLP CHANGE TECHNIQUES

Program recap, advanced Timeline techniques, sub-modality shifts and other therapeutic interventions. Take your therapy skills to a whole new level and get into deeper routed problems with more art, sorting them with greater ease and efficiency, leaving your client in a wonderfully great and happy state.

MODULE 9: META STATES

States about states, thoughts about thoughts and feelings about feeling. A higher meta position take on experience. States that override other states, for example one can feel frustrated about being depressed or feel angry about feeling shy. We have certain “theme” states that can habituate and override the expected feelings relevant to a certain stimulus or situation.

MODULE 10: MODELING

- Presenting your modeling projects
- Life Coaching Practice
- Certification
